

25th- 26th February 2016

Auditorium B, Chancellors Building/ University of Edinburgh, Edinburgh

25th February 2016

Good Practice in Clinical Toxicology

12.30 - 12.45 Registration

12.45 - 13.45 Renal medicine for toxicologists

Dr Paul Phelan, Consultant Nephrologist, Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh

13.45 - 14.45 Managing cardiovascular toxicity

Dr Arvindan Veiraiyah, Consultant Toxicologist, Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh

14.45 - 15.00 Coffee

15.00 - 16.00 Legal issues in acute medicine

Roger Smyth, Consultant Psychiatrist, Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh & Honorary Clinical Senior Lecturer, Division of Psychiatry, University of Edinburgh

16.00 - 17.00 Current and future management of paracetamol poisoning: an ideal disease for stratified medicine

Dr James Dear, NRS Research Scotland Fellow, Honorary Senior Lecturer in Clinical Pharmacology and Toxicology, University of Edinburgh & Consultant Toxicologist, Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh

19.00 Evening Program including dinner and bowling at the Sheep Heid Inn, Duddingston, Edinburgh

26th February 2016

Recent Developments in Clinical Toxicology

08.45 - 09.00 Registration

09.00 - 10.00 Unusual calls from the National Poisons rota

Dr Euan Sandilands, Consultant Toxicologist, Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh & Honorary Clinical Senior Lecturer, Clinical Pharmacology and Toxicology, University of Edinburgh

10.00 - 11.00 Preventing deaths from OP pesticide and nerve agent deaths through applied clinical pharmacology

Professor Michael Eddleston, Professor of Clinical Toxicology, Scottish Senior Clinical Research Fellow, & Lister Prize Fellow. Director of the National Poison Information Service - Edinburgh Unit

11.15 - 11.30 Coffee

11.30 - 12.30 The interface between regulation and clinical toxicology

Professor David Webb, Christison Professor of Therapeutics and Clinical Pharmacology, University of Edinburgh; President, British Pharmacological Society; and Non-Executive Director, MHRA

12.30 Close

Registration and dinner are free but spaces are limited!

Please contact emma.morrison@nhs.net to reserve a place